

Challenge of Change Within Unification

2025

Thomas A. Burns PhD.

Klamath Falls, Oregon

Nothing is constant,
Everything is always changing,
But,
Everything is also united
As one universal, evolving entity.

Unfortunately, human perception is extraordinarily limited.
None of the dominant immaterial energy realm is perceived directly
Leaving reality to be defined mostly by the minor material realm.

This situation invites human commitment to the illusion of separation
Among all “things.”

Separation invites the assumption of individuality,
Individuality promotes the concept of independent personal identity,
Individual personal identity seeks permanence,
Permanence requires constancy,
Constancy denies change.

Fundamental conflict!

Humans live the dynamic of universal change within unification,
While erroneously separating themselves
And all other “things” in the process.

All humans dwell inside this contradiction
Struggling in various ways
To reconcile the separate conditions
They mistakenly carve out
For
Growth and decay,
Individual lives and deaths.

Conclusion

All of reality exists and changes as one.
Humans must recognize the severe impacts
To their ultimate awareness, behavior and capabilities
That the separation assumption of the material perspective engenders.